Scranton Would Allow Governors To Succeed Selves

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton is wholeheartedly in favor of allowing governors to succeed themselves in Pennsylvania, but says he would not consider the prospect himself.

Under the present law, Pennsylvania governors are limited to one term.

"I am certain that a new constitution would not remove this prohibition so far as it applies to myself," Scranton declared Friday in a speech to the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

Scranton aimed his talk at urging the newspaper executives to lend their support to a proposed constitutional convention next year to rewrite the state's 89-year-old basic law.

The convention questions will be put to the voters November 5.

REDS LIFT 2-DAY BLOCKADE OF U.S. MILITARY CONVOY

BERLIN (AP)—A U.S. Army convoy held up by the Russians in East Germany for more than two days finally rolled into West Berlin today.

The Army said the troops were cleared through Babelsberg checkpoint "in accordance with established procedures."

That meant the Americans had won their latest battle with the Russians over the question of whether troops in small convoys have to dismount to be counted by Soviet guards when passing through Communist Germany from the West to isolated Berlin.

The Western Allies insist dismounting is unnecessary in small convoys.

The Russians opened the way after the United States protested to the Soviet Union that the action was "entirely unwarranted." Secretary of State Dean Rusk delivered one protest to the Soviet ambassador in Washington, Anatoly F. Dobrynin. Other protests

PA. HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION IN SESSION HERE

Pennsylvania may have been the arsenal of the Civil War and have given great numbers to fight the battles but it also became a "peace state" and it took an actual invasion in 1863 to get men to join the militia in any great numbers.

Facts of Pennsylvania's somewhat contradictory Civil War history were outlined Friday and today at the 32nd annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Historical Association at Gettysburg College. Hosts for the convention are Gettysburg College and the Adams County Historical Society.

Wood Gray, of the department of history of George Washington College, Friday night told how only an act of doubtful legality kept Pennsylvania a "fighting state."

Edwin B. Coddington, of the department of history of Lafayette College, told Friday afternoon of how Pennsylvania civilians failed to respond immediately to the call for militia in June, 1863, and how New York militia filled the gap for Pennsylvania's defenses.

Coddington described Stanton's efforts in June, 1863, when the Confederates were moving toward Pennsylvania, to establish what was in effect the progenitor of the local National Guard — a home-based federal militia which would be called to duty only in emergency and otherwise be based in its home town. The proposal met little response. The men of Pennsylvania were accustomed to signing for a specific length of time and apparently did not trust enlistment for an indefinite term.

In addition there was no bounty for joining and the men would have to wait for Congress to act to obtain pay. When this did not work, another system was tried basing the enlistment on a presidential proclamation, which would provide immediate pay for the soldiers. It also did not attract great numbers of volunteers.

The final method adopted followed "the federal subsidy plan we have today in many other ways. The troops responded to the state's call and the federal government paid for everything." Where enlistments were slow while the Confederates were in the south headed toward Pennsylvania, after actual invasion the rush to the colors for defense of the Commonwealth was "tremendous and the state officials were swamped."

"ON OWN TERMS"

Meantime New York's militia had been summoned and of the 11,500 General Couch had on the Susquehanna defense line in June 22, 1863, 8,000 were from New York.

Pennsylvanians were "strangely apathetic" in 1863, Coddington noted. Where in 1861 and 1862 they had sprung to arms. "In 1863 the question seemed to be—where can I hide my goods."

But the idea of bushwhacking seemed to appeal to them and many "played that dangerous game."

"It seemed Pennsylvanians would fight—but they wanted to fight on their own terms."

"FORTUITOUS CIRCUMSTANCE"

But for some "essentially fortuitous circumstances" the peace party in Pennsylvania might have forced the abandonment of Pennsylvania's Civil War efforts, Wood Gray told the group. Pennsylvania had a three-year term for its governor, which meant the governorship did not come up for election in 1862. And only one-third of its senate was elected each year.

As a result the discouragement with the war in 1862 which led to

ARGENTINA INAUGURATES NEW REGIME

By ARY MOLEON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The setbacks for democracy in Latin America represented by recent military takeovers in the Dominican Republic and Honduras may be offset to some extent today when Argentina inaugurates a freely elected government.

One of the wealthiest nations in Latin America, Argentina is regarded by many as potentially the most influential Latin American country.

The president of the council of the Organization of American States, Gonzalo Facio de Costa Rica, said this week just before leaving for Buenos Aires to attend the inauguration of Argentine president-elect Arturo Umberto Illia.

EYE LEADERSHIP

"We are filled with the hope at the idea of having Argentina as leader of a democratic movement in Latin America."

Latin American countries have looked up to Argentina because of its advanced status. Richly endowed by nature, it is underpopulated with a racially homogenous people, predominantly of Spanish and Italian descent.

Literacy is exceptionally high; the skill of Argentine workmen ranks with the best of any industrial nation; the climate, except in the cold south, is temperate.

But Argentina's influence has been practically absent from inter-American political life for more than two decades.

A pro-Nazi administration kept the country neutral until the last days of World War II. Then Juan Peron antagonized the other Latin American nations with his dictatorship.

VAIN EFFORT

After Peron was ousted, the regime of President Arturo Frondizi made a vain effort to link Argentina to the neutralist camp outside the hemisphere. He was the first Argentine president to visit India.

Argentina has been under a caretaker government since March 1962, when the military, in ousting Frondizi, threw the country into confusion. Two picket civil wars broke out in this period.

Most experts feel that in electing Illia, Argentines have given democracy one of the biggest boosts in Latin America since the Alliance for Progress was formulated two years ago.

Illia, a 62-year-old country doctor, is a moderate liberal. He is rated pro-West in his approach to foreign relations and known for his honesty and diligence at home.

Scott Criticizes Soviet Blockade

WASHINGTON (AP) — "If the so-called relaxation of tensions that followed the test ban treaty signing is to be meaningful, it must be a two-way street."

That was the reaction Friday of Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., as he charged that the blocking of U.S. convoys into Berlin was proof of Soviet duplicity in its negotiations with the West.

Only four days before, he said, President Kennedy signed the nuclear test ban treaty and two days before announced the sale of wheat to Russia.

"It's the same old story," Scott said. "We made a generous gesture and they slap us in the face."

Suggests Student Trade With Russia

Again the American officers refused.

The Soviets blocked the highway with two armored personnel carriers and surrounded the convoy with about 100 combat-ready troops in another 10 armored vehicles.

Friday the Berlin Command sent 144 U.S. infantrymen in 25 vehicles to Babelsberg to stand by the convoy. The second convoy was cleared by the Soviets, but stayed at the checkpoint.

The 205 troops bivouacked for the night and prepared for a long stay while the issue was fought out at the diplomatic level.

Release of the convoy came suddenly. The first newsmen knew of it was when they spotted the lead vehicles coming around the bend to the Allied checkpoint at Dreilinden, on the West Berlin city limits.

The convoy stopped only a minute to allow the commander to report and then moved off to barracks in the American sector of West Berlin.

If there had been no controversy the troops should have arrived about the same time Thursday, so they were 48 hours later getting to the Communist-surrounded city.

"Dead" Priest May Officiate At Wedding

NEW YORK (AP) — A clergyman once declared legally dead may officiate at his niece's wedding today.

The Rev. Walter Cizek, 58, of Shenandoah, Pa., fresh out of a Russian prison in the latest two-for-two spy swap, flew in to New York this morning just three hours in advance of his niece's wedding in Hartford, Conn.

Members of his family hope the Roman Catholic priest will be able to make it to Hartford in time to join Theresa Balczuk, 18, and James McNamara in wedlock.

The girl grew up thinking her uncle had died in the early days of World War II. All the time — 23 years — he was in a Soviet prison, serving a 25-year term on espionage charges.

Appropriately enough, Father Cizek now rediscovered his native America on Columbus Day.

RETIREMENT FOR FARMERS

Farm operators can set up a retirement program under the Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962. Thomas E. Piper, Adams County farm agent, said today.

Methods available for investing in a retirement fund include: A special new series of U.S. Government retirement bonds, a trust fund administered by a bank or trust company, an annuity contract purchased from a life insurance company or a special custodial account set up with a bank.

These retirement accounts cannot be cashed or used for collateral until the farm operator reaches the age of 59½, dies or becomes disabled.

Farmers are eligible to set up retirement accounts, with certain restrictions and limitations. The payments into the retirement plan are calculated on 10 per cent of earned income for labor and management. The law states that only 30 per cent of net farm profits are considered as earned income for labor and management.

The balance is a return to capital. For example, a farmer with net profits of $9,000 would have a return to labor and management of $2,700. His payments into a retirement fund would be $270. One half of this amount, or $135, can be deducted from income in calculating income tax. This is one of the advantages of the law.

One half of all contributions in a retirement program up to $2,500 can be used as a tax deduction. Farm operators who participate in this retirement plan must also include certain employees, especially those with three years service.

More detailed information on this complex law can be obtained from an insurance representative, a trust office in a bank or an attorney.

PA. HISTORICAL

great gains did not sweep Governor Curtin out of office. Nor did it change the senate. And by 1863 the victories at Gettysburg and Vicksburg had helped change the mood, "hope had been renewed."

Pennsylvania, "whatever it might have been before, was an essentially conservative state by 1860," Dr. Gray said. Its people generally were opposed to abolition, or anything that would interfere with the peaceful business and farm pursuits of its citizens.

ELECTION ISSUE IN '63
The Democratic party in Pennsylvania was "deeply and stubbornly conservative," Gray said, and the newly-forming Republican party in Pennsylvania was "a triumph of conservatism." It wanted protective tariffs, but in a lingering reluctance to even identify itself as associated with the radical Republicans, it called itself at first the Peoples party rather than Republican.

As the Republican party became identified with the war, the Democratic party became identified with peace and its candidate for governor in 1863 openly had proclaimed the right of the slave states to separate from the union if they wished. By 1862 in the vote for state auditor, 26 counties, including Adams, went Democratic apparently in the effort to secure peace. The legislature, which had become Democratic, was seeking a solution which would permit the south to come back voluntarily and cause the fight to cease.

The senate divided as a result of the elections and there was only a majority of one for the Republican war party. Harry White, who gave the Republicans the majority, was in Libby prison, and the Confederates would not free him. The prior incumbent held that he was head of the senate until a new presiding officer was named. A note was smuggled out of Libby Prison stating that the senator confined there had resigned. The Democrats protested the note was a forgery but the presiding officer recognized it anyway and a new Republican was named from the district to keep the Republican majority of one. "But for that circumstance Pennsylvania might have become a peace state," Gray said.

"CRUCIAL DAY"
Gray urged the Pennsylvania Historical Association to secure the records—census, voting, etc., of all the counties in the Civil War period and set up a project "to learn in depth what happened politically in Pennsylvania during that period. Unfortunately the politicians did not save the notes they wrote to other politicians which would give the background needed. There is another thing that might be investigated—the motives of patriotism."

Warren W. Hassler Jr. of Pennsylvania State University, outlined the event of July 1, 1863, at Gettysburg, holding it was the crucial day "when some 18,000 Union soldiers in effect held off 28,000 Confederates until the rest of the army of the Potomac arrived. While the Confederates appeared to have won the first day's battle, they simple forced the Union troops back to the line on Cemetery Ridge which proved the key to victory in the next two days."

J. Cutler Andrews of Chatham College told of how the "Press Reports the Battle of Gettysburg" and said that within their limitations the 45 newspapermen who covered the Battle of Gettysburg did a good job. Their average age was in the mid-30's with the oldest, Samuel Wilkinson, of the New York Times who was 46 and the youngest, Joel Cook, of a Philadelphia paper, was 21. Ten of the men were from the New York Herald, nine from the New York Tribune. Six Philadelphia newspapermen were here, three from the Inquirer and three from the Press. At least two "local" reporters were on the scene, an unidentified reporter for the Lancaster paper and Robert G. Harper of the Adams Sentinel "who printed the battle as local news on page two."

LUNCHEON TODAY
A New York Herald reporter "scopped the world" by going to Hanover and taking over the telegraph. He released it only to the U.S. Army for its messages on condition it return the telegraph to him afterwards for his dispatches. A great number of reporters were sent to Harrisburg. There they found Gen. Couch had established a censorship over the telegraph and refused to permit them to cross the river.

the world. The dam was slightly damaged in last Wednesday's tragedy and millions of tons of water still remain in it.

Amid the grief came word that an American couple had survived Wednesday night's disaster. Robert DeLazaro, 48, and his wife, Elizabeth, 47, of Scarsdale, N.Y., were visiting relatives in Longhorne when the town of 4,600 was practically wiped out as a side of Mt. Toc fell into the reservoir and sent a wall of water cascading over the 873-foot dam.

A helicopter spotted the Americans the next morning and took them to a hospital. The hospital reported Friday they suffered shock and bruises but were in good condition.

Mauro Scoccimarro, president of a Communist group in the Italian Senate, said there was evidence that engineers at the dam had telephoned national police to warn of trouble an hour before the disaster.

Soviet Union after a scholarship year at the Free University in West Berlin. He was arrested in Kiev July 27, 1961, for allegedly photographing military objectives. He was sentenced to two years in prison plus six years in a corrective labor camp.

Born in Chassel, Mich., Makinen majored in chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Makinen, reside in Ashburnham.

The possibility of freeing Makinen was discussed during the negotiations conducted by Brooklyn attorney James B. Donovan for the 1961 exchange of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers for the Soviet spy Col. Rudolf I. Abel.

Commented Donovan Friday: "I regard it as the fulfillment of their pledge to me at the time of the (Powers-Abel) exchange."

Federal authorities said the current swap was worked out in U.S.-Soviet negotiations in Moscow and Washington.

The Egorovs were arrested last July 2 in their Flushing, Queens, apartment. A federal grand jury indicted them on spy charges just two days ago. Egorov, employed by the United Nations secretariat, claimed diplomatic immunity. This contention was rejected and they were ordered to stand trial Nov. 4.

RULES IN TWO BOYS' DEATHS

Two youths found dead in their car late Thursday near Felton died of self-administered carbon monoxide poisoning, Dr. Thomas M. Hart, York County coroner, said Friday.

Dennis Ervin Mitzel, 18, Felton R. 2, and Pfc. Paul Albert Brown, Windsor R. 1, were found in Mitzel's car on a Chanceford Twp. farm.

Cause of death was determined through autopsies. Dr. William O. Fulton, deputy coroner from Stewartstown, pronounced the youths dead at the scene and said they had been dead for about 48 hours.

Brown was the son of Emory V. Brown, Windsor R. 1, near Bittersville, and the late Alveta Smith Brown.

He was a private first class of the 820th Ordnance Company, Fort Benning, Ga., and had been in service about 11 months. He was home on a 10-day furlough and due to return Thursday.

CHEMISTRY IN THE HIGH SCHOOL TODAY

The material covered in chemistry in the high school of today is constantly being revised. What is important today may either be more important or less important tomorrow. As researchers find better methods of teaching, these ideas are incorporated in the present course of study. Modern ways of stimulating the student, not only for his high school years but for the future, are continually being sought.

The purpose is to get the pupil interested in the subject for the sake of the material and not for the grade which is given. If he is engaged in a specific phase of chemistry he will learn many things appropriate to his interests and also the pertinent concepts of the course.

Newer ideas taken from the chemical bond approach and the chem study group are combined with those of the traditional approach, thus formulating the methods of the course. Lecture, discussion, problem-solving and all such procedures are put to use. The discussion generally precedes the reading lessons, creating many questions, for which the pupil has need of finding answers while studying.

BETTER PREPARATION
The student is required to delve into some phase of science which seems most interesting to him and write at least one paper on this topic. Also, he is to try a project, again on something of interest to him, to learn about experimentation and research on his own.

In the laboratory the trend is away from the question-answer type of experiment and toward an open-end experiment requiring much thought on the part of the student. The subject investigated in the laboratory precedes class discussion, therefore the answers are not known in advance. This tends to make all experiences in the laboratory original experiences. The student works with the traditional equipment as well as with many new items. Some of the newer instruments are: Analytical balances, burets, centrifuges, a drying oven and other assorted articles. The laboratory work also entails a qualitative scheme of analysis and a few simple quantitative determinations.

Methods are in a constant state of flux. New procedures are added each year and old ones are changed, all in order to prepare our pupils better to cope with the future.

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Charles R. Nicklas, editor of the Chambersburg Public Opinion, was one of six men honored Thursday night by Wilson College for outstanding civic leadership.

The six were honored at a founder's day convocation at the college.

VET WEEK TO BE OBSERVED

Governor William W. Scranton has declared the week of October 21 as "Pennsylvania Veterinary Week," which is being held in conjunction with the Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical Association's annual convention, this year set for The Inn at Buck Hill Falls in the Pocono Mountains, October 23-25.

State veterinarians are celebrating with a series of civic luncheons to be held in many Pennsylvania cities. They're also holding "open houses" at their offices and hospitals.

Pennsylvania veterinarians point out that the first veterinary school in the United States was established in Philadelphia in 1854. Several years later, however, that college closed its doors and it wasn't until 1894 that the School of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania opened. But that was the first school to have a full three-year course, and the first school to be attached to a human medical college.

Veterinarians specialized and in addition to the friendly men who treat the ill of pets, there are the large animal practitioners, the military veterinarians, the scientists, the teachers, the public health and government veterinarians.

The American Veterinary Medical Association claims 17,000 members and the Pennsylvania Association has 600 members. President of the state group is Dr. Kenneth F. Moist, York. Dr. Allan S. VanSant, Philadelphia, is president-elect. Dr. David K. Rice, Warren, is chairman of the board of trustees, and Dr. Palace H. Seitz, Harrisburg, is secretary-treasurer.

Central's Ground Attack Too Much For Littlestown Who Suffer 26-13 Defeat

A hard-fighting but outclassed Littlestown High School football team succumbed to the powerful ground attack of York Central 26-13 Friday evening in a York County League game played before a capacity audience at Memorial Field, Littlestown.

Two of the best backs in the league, Eddie Koonitz of Littlestown and John Gentzler of Central, lived up to expectations in leading their teams with Koonitz accounting for both Bolt touchdowns on runs of 59 and 24 yards.

It took the Panthers, now 4-1 overall, just 4:04 minutes and 10 plays to open the scoring in the first period after returning the kickoff to their 39. With Gentzler, Bob Miller, Kerry Kyle and Tom Walters carrying, Central picked up three straight first downs to the 9. Gentzler gained six yards before Walters went off tackle for the score. Ben Schwartz place-kicked the point. A 19-yard pass, Miller to Bill Burd, was the big ground gainer in the drive.

MYERS INTERCEPTS

Late in the first period Central began moving again with Gentzler racing 25 yards to the Littlestown 23. Two plays netted three yards and then Greg Myers intercepted a Miller pass on the Bolt 11.

After three plays netted nine yards the Bolts were forced to punt on the opening play of the second period. Kerry Kyle broke through to block Terry Poteroff's kick and the ball rolled into the end zone where Denny McGlaughlin fell on it for a Central TD. A placement for the point was wide.

Littlestown bounced right back into contention a short time later. Jim Blocher returned the kickoff to the Littlestown 27 after picking up a first down on the 40. Koonitz, behind some fine blocking, broke away and raced 59 yards for a score. Terry Arbogast's kick for the point was blocked.

Central gained two first downs to the Littlestown 36 but Poteroff stole a pass on the 30 and returned 15 yards to the Bolts' 45.

Littlestown began to move but Central took the ball on its 33. Gentzler ran all the way to the Littlestown 27 before being caught from behind. Three straight carries by Gentzler put the ball on the three from where Miller went over on a keeper play. Blocher, who played out the remainder of the game at quarterback after Arbogast was shaken up early in the period, blocked the kick for the point.

Late in the scoreless third quarter the Panthers unleashed a hard-running attack to advance deep into Bolt territory where the threat expired when Myers pounced on Gentzler's fumble early in the final period at the 15. PANTHERS GET ANOTHER

Central was not to be denied.

GRID MOVIE AVAILABLE

A 25-minute sound-color movie designed to aid in curbing football injuries is being made available to area colleges and high schools by Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

The film, a public service project in the interest of preventive medicine, deals specifically with cause and prevention of injuries associated with the grid sport. Schools have been notified that a limited number of prints are available on a loan basis in the Central Pennsylvania area. It is believed that coaches will want to show the film to assistant coaches, players, team physicians and trainers.

The movie features demonstrations of the proper method of wearing protective equipment, the more common types of football injuries and the cause and prevention of such injuries. Anatomical models and X-ray photographs add medico-technical support to the presentation.

Dr. Michael P. Mandarino, former Philadelphia Eagles' guard and later the club's team physician, narrates the film. An internationally-known orthopedic surgeon, he frequently is called upon to discuss football injuries at various high school and college football clinics throughout the country.

MISTAKEN CHIEFS

COLBY, Kan. (AP) — Norton High School football fans jumped to their feet and cheered when their team scored a touchdown against Colby Friday night.

That proved to be a mistake. Part of the wooden bleachers collapsed, dropping about 35 persons to the ground. Many of them were shaken up, but no one was hurt seriously enough to be taken to the hospital.

Norton won the game 9-0.

TURNER LOSES TV BOUT DEBUT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dick Turner of Philadelphia was handed his first defeat Friday night when he bowed to Jose Stable of Cuba in a nationally televised welterweight fight at the Blue Horizon Arena.

In 22 previous bouts, the only flaw in Turner's record was a draw. Stable, the third-ranking welterweight, chalked up his 23rd victory against two losses and one draw. Turner, before the bout, had been ranked sixth in the 147-pound division.

Referee Zack Clayton scored 47-44 in favor of Stable, and was joined by judge Lou Tress, who made it 49-44. Nate Lopinson, the other judge, called it a draw with 46 points each.

Turner, with a slight weight advantage at 147½ to Stable's 146, staggered the Cuban with a right to the jaw, but it was the only damaging punch in the fight, which left both contenders unmarked.

SMU STAGES 32-28 UPSET OVER MIDDIES

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern Methodist, which last week shot down the Air Force, has sunk the Navy with a guided missile named John Roderick.

Sending the speeding Roderick through the line almost at will and making the most of a key pass interference call, the Mustangs of SMU pulled off their second straight upset by defeating the previously unbeaten, fourth-ranked Middle 32-28 Friday night.

Roderick, a 9.4 one-hundred-yard sprinter who put on football cleats for the first time this season, ripped the Navy line for 146 yards, including touchdown runs of 45 and 2 yards in the second half and a key 23-yard gainer that led to the deciding touchdown.

Roderick's quick start started SMU toward the Navy goal, then pass interference placed the ball on the one-yard line. Billy Gannon cracked over for the clincher. The victory added Navy and Roger Staubach to an SMU trophy collection that started last week with Air Force and Terry Isaacson.

In other major games, LSU defeated Miami of Florida 34-0 on Doug Mearns' 20-yard field goal in the third period, Syracuse walloped UCLA 29-7 as Gus Giardi scored two touchdowns and Virginia Tech utilized Bob Schweickert's triple-threat abilities for a 22-4 victory over George Washington.

SOONERS VS. TEXAS

The weekend program continues today with top-ranked Oklahoma meeting second-ranked Texas in the big one at the Cotton Bowl.

Florida is at No. 3 Alabama, Purdue at No. 5 Wisconsin, No. 7 Southern California at Notre Dame, Illinois at No. 8 Ohio State and Army at No. 9 Penn State while Minnesota is at Northwestern in the television game — CBS, 1:30 p.m., EST.

They're going to have to go far to beat the SMU-Navy struggle in which the Middles last drive ended at the seven-yard line after Staubach's final pass was batted down in the end zone by Tommy Caughran as the gun sounded.

Trailing 25-13, the Mustangs began to roll when Roderick raced 45 for a touchdown just before the third period ended. In the fourth period, Roderick ripped off a 14-yard run to start another drive capped by his own two-yard TD run.

Then, after Navy regained the lead 28-25 on Fred Marlin's 22-yard field goal with 2:52 left, Roderick took over once again. He scored 23 yards this time before the pass interference led of Gannon's clinching touchdown with 2:05 left on the clock.

Navy is now 3-1, SMU 2-1. LSU's victory proved costly. The Tigers star sophomore quarterback Pat Screen, suffered a broken right shoulder in the third period and probably will be lost for the season.

ATLANTA (AP) — "We're over the hump now" said a jubilant Arnold Palmer as he prepared to lead the American team into the second phase of the Ryder Cup golf series, cushioned by a fat 6-2 lead.

Eight rounds of four-ball matches were scheduled today after the first day's alternate shot foursomes at East Lake Club.

The British captain, John Falloon, was disappointed at his team's afternoon showing Friday. The Britons tied the Yanks 2-2 in the morning round and startled the Americans by beating Palmer, the American captain, in the first match.

Palmer attributed his team's spotty morning showing to stage fright.

BENCHES POTT
Palmer benched his morning partner, Johnny Pott, 27, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., in the afternoon, pairing himself with Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif. The afternoon pairing paid off.

"Bill played real good," Palmer said after he and Casper beat youngsters Brian Huggett and George Will 5 and 4. "I just tagged along."

It was a return match for Palmer against Huggett and Will. The young Britons beat Palmer and Pott in the morning round, 3 and 2.

Casper teamed with Dave Ragano Jr. to gain the Americans' only victory in the morning round. They beat Pete Alliss of Dorset, England, and Irishman Christy O'Connor 1 up.

Finsterwald was teamed with Gene Little of San Diego, Calif., in both matches Friday. The two halved their morning match with Dave Thomas of Berkshire and Harry Weetman of Surrey, and then beat Neil Coles of Surrey and Geoffrey Hunt of Bushey Heath, Herts, in the afternoon, 2 and 1.

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP) — Defending Champion Merrill L. Carlsmith of Hilo, Hawaii, and William D. Higgins of San Francisco meet today in the finals of the USGA Senior Amateur Golf Tournament.

Both of the 57-year-old golfers, who studied law at arch-rival California universities, came through with victories in Friday's double round.

Carlsmith, an attorney, defeated S.P. Severino of Aurora, Ill., 2 and 1, in the morning round and then squeezed past Joseph Morrill Jr. of Barrington, Mass., 1-70.

Higgins, a printing ink manufacturer, took a 1-up victory from James H. McAlvin of Lake Forest, Ill., before downing George Hagarty of Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., 3 and 2.

BULLET FROSH SQUEAK PAST TEMPLE 5-0

The Gettysburg College freshmen opened their four-game campaign by downing Temple 5-0 Friday afternoon in a defensive battle at Philadelphia.

Midway in the first quarter the Owls were forced to attempt to kick from deep in their territory. A bad pass from center necessitated Wes Jones running the ball but Bill Brewer, who played a brilliant game for Gettysburg, broke through to spill Jones on the 13.

Dick Shirk passed to Bob Nye for five yards and then Nye added three on a run. On the next play Bob Kinsey booted an angle field goal from 14 yards out to make the score 3-0.

Near the end of the third period Temple was back on its six-yard line via a Bullet punt. Bill Higham, on a rollout, attempted to run on second down but Brewer slashed through to spill him deep in the end zone for a safety.

Temple's best bid for a score came in the second quarter when it reached the Bullets' 22 only to be thrown back to the 38. In the last quarter the Owls moved to the 32 but were again thrown back by the stout Bullet defense to the Temple 30.

The Bullet yearlings will meet Bucknell here Friday, October 25, in their lone home game.

The Gettysburg College freshmen opened their four-game campaign by downing Temple 5-0 Friday afternoon in a defensive battle at Philadelphia.

Midway in the first quarter the Owls were forced to attempt to kick from deep in their territory. A bad pass from center necessitated Wes Jones running the ball but Bill Brewer, who played a brilliant game for Gettysburg, broke through to spill Jones on the 13.

Dick Shirk passed to Bob Nye for five yards and then Nye added three on a run. On the next play Bob Kinsey booted an angle field goal from 14 yards out to make the score 3-0.

Near the end of the third period Temple was back on its six-yard line via a Bullet punt. Bill Higham, on a rollout, attempted to run on second down but Brewer slashed through to spill him deep in the end zone for a safety.

Temple's best bid for a score came in the second quarter when it reached the Bullets' 22 only to be thrown back to the 38. In the last quarter the Owls moved to the 32 but were again thrown back by the stout Bullet defense to the Temple 30.

The Bullet yearlings will meet Bucknell here Friday, October 25, in their lone home game.

National Open champion Julius Boros and Tony Lema against Tom Halliburton of Surrey and Hunt's brother, Bernard. One down with two to play, Boros and Lema won the 17th with a par and then took the 18th on a par after a good chip by Boros.

Boros and Lema halved their match with Coles and Bernard Hunt in the morning.

The pace of the afternoon rout was set by Billy Maxwell of Las Vegas, Nev., and Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill. They defeated Thomas and Weetman, 4 and 3, and from then on it was an American afternoon.

Palmer attributed his team's spotty morning showing to stage fright.

BENCHES POTT
Palmer benched his morning partner, Johnny Pott, 27, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., in the afternoon, pairing himself with Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif. The afternoon pairing paid off.

"Bill played real good," Palmer said after he and Casper beat youngsters Brian Huggett and George Will 5 and 4. "I just tagged along."

It was a return match for Palmer against Huggett and Will. The young Britons beat Palmer and Pott in the morning round, 3 and 2.

Casper teamed with Dave Ragano Jr. to gain the Americans' only victory in the morning round. They beat Pete Alliss of Dor

USDA Revises Standards To Aid Apple Marketing

By THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced revised U.S. standards for apples.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reports this is the first full-scale revision of the apple standards in 12 years. It is designed to make apples more useful to the industry under current handling and marketing practices.

The new standards include a more practical U.S. Extra Fancy grade, eliminate the U. S. No. 1 Cooker grade, and require U.S. Extra Fancy and Fancy grades of apples after Jan. 31 following the year they were produced to be free from damage by invisible watercore. The revision was published in the Federal Register Sept. 5, and became effective Sept. 20.

Changes are based on industry recommendations resulting from meetings, discussions, and conferences with representatives of all major and many minor apple producing areas. There was general agreement within the industry on most points, although a few provisions represent compromise.

MORE PRACTICAL

The U. S. Extra Fancy grade revision carries less restrictive shape, color, and defect requirements, to make it more practical for volume use.

The new requirement on watercore is based on a similar requirement in Canadian apple standards, and represents a step toward coordinating standards of the two countries to facilitate overseas exports from both countries as well as two-way trading in apples across the common U.S.-Canada border.

The revised standards also double the required percentage of higher-grade apples in any "combination" apple pack. For example, a U. S. Extra Fancy combination must now contain not less than 50 per cent Extra Fancy apples rather than the 25 per cent formerly required.

"Packing requirements" in the standard area redefined to apply to current packaging practices, and the "U. S. Condition Standards for Export" may now also be called "U. S. Condition Standards." They may be used for domestic shipments as well as export lots.

BE READY FOR FIRE

What would you do if fire struck your home tonight?

If you haven't a carefully prepared answer to that question, you and your family are making an unwise gamble. And the odds are against you, because fires in homes take more than 6,000 lives each year.

"Planning ahead for fire emergencies in the home would prevent most of these tragic deaths." Every family is urged to prepare—and rehearse—a careful plan for escape. Here are some pointers:

1. Plan at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially bedrooms. Allow for blocking of stairways or hall by fire.

2. Particularly for night time fires, remember that closed bedroom doors will hold back flame and smoke, allow extra time for escape.

3. For upper floor escape, use any available porch and garage roofs, ladders, or trees as ways down to safety. Be sure exit windows work easily, and are low and large enough to get through.

4. Pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet, and be sure everyone understands the rule "one out—stay out."

5. Know how to call your fire department, and do this as quickly as the house is clear of people.

6. Always remember that it's people, not possessions, which are of prime concern. Concentrate on getting everybody out of the house quickly; don't waste precious time trying to save valuables.

Syracuse University lists 15 All-America football players over the years but only two have been backs. They were Jimmy Brown and Ernie Davis.

STAG GUESTS TO HOST IKE

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—A legion of Dwight D. Eisenhower's admirers combine a program of golfing, dining and fraternizing today in honor of the former president's 73rd birthday, which comes on Monday.

The list of 350 dignitaries attending the birthday celebration was gleaned from the guest lists at Eisenhower's famous stag dinners during his residence in the White House, 1953-61.

The dinner was billed by its organizer, Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission under Eisenhower, as a return compliment for the White House dinners.

Strauss said politics was not a factor in planning the celebration and a number of prominent Democrats were included on the guest list.

But with scores of Republican kingmakers talking things over in the halls of the plush Hershey Hotel, site of the birthday session, the atmosphere was ripe for political speculation.

If politics occupied part of the thoughts of such guests as former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey—both unsuccessful GOP candidates for president—golf was the main source of action.

JOBS IN PA. STEADY OVER 15-YR. PERIOD

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The number of jobs in Pennsylvania not related to agriculture has remained fairly steady since 1947, but wages have just about doubled in that period.

And workers are on the job about the same number of hours each week, 39½, according to a new study released Thursday by the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The number of many non-farm jobs increased, but the gain was offset by heavy cuts in other fields, such as mining which showed a 76 per cent decline.

The study shows that between 1947 and 1962 the total number of non-farm jobs rose 16,000 from 3,674,000 to 3,690,000, an increase of less than one half of one per cent.

GAINS OFFSET

Major increases were in service industries, up 154,000; government, up 130,000; wholesale and retail trade, up 56,000; and finance, insurance and real estate, up 44,000.

But those gains were largely offset by heavy employment cuts in mining, down 154,000; manufacturing, down 156,000; and transportation and utilities, down 72,000.

The study shows that in 1947 there were 203,500 men employed in the coal fields compared with 49,300 last year.

FARM WAGES UP

In 1947, the study showed, non-farm workers earned an average $1.21 an hour, or $47.92 a week. This jumped to $2.41 or $94.95 last year.

The data are compiled in a new book the bureau is selling for $3.50.

Figures for farm employment are not included in the 633-page study, but recent surveys show that farm employment in Pennsylvania, like the rest of the nation, is declining.

AREA FIGURES

The largest number of non-farm workers is in the Philadelphia area—1,525,300, nearly half the total for Pennsylvania. There were 1,476,600 in 1949, the first year figures were kept for separate sections of the state.

Also showing increases were the Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton area, up 2,500 to 183,400; Erie, 2,000 to 77,800; Harrisburg 7,700 to 144,100; Lancaster 8,300 to 96,000; Reading 5,700 to 103,000; Wilkes-Barre and Hazleton 2,800 to 105,100; and York 3,300 to 84,800.

Declines were reported at Pittsburgh from 827,400 to 745,600; Altoona 1,200 to 41,000; Johnstown 3,700 to 65,400; and Scranton 200 to 76,700.

Report Surrender Of Iraqi Leader

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Baghdad Radio announced today that Sheikh Ahmad Barzani, brother of the Kurdish rebel leader, had surrendered with his men to the Iraqi army.

The radio said the government had pardoned Sheikh Ahmad and his followers. It called on other rebellious Kurds to surrender.

The government said the elder brother of rebel leader Mullah Mustafa Barzani contacted the Iraqi army after the Kurds had suffered repeated losses in mountainous northern Iraq.

Bad Weather Keeps Yacht In Harbor

LEVKAS ISLAND, Greece (AP) — Bad weather kept Mrs. John F. Kennedy's vacation yacht in the snug harbor of Levkas today.

Shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis' 303-foot yacht Christina was reported earlier to have sailed from the island on the west coast of Greece where Mrs. Kennedy and her party Thursday toured the game preserve that Onassis is establishing on the nearby islet of Scorpios.

But instead of putting out to sea, the Christina during the night moved into the harbor for protection against high winds and heavy rain that blew up.

Morocco, some 2,000 miles across the Mediterranean, was believed Mrs. Kennedy's next destination.

GROMYKO, JFK FAIL TO REACH MAJOR ISSUES

By ANDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House discussion between President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko ranged from Cuba to the moon but neither side gave an inch on major East-West issues, informants said today.

However, no big changes in Soviet positions were expected by the President or his advisers, and officials pictured Thursday's talks as being exploratory, with Moscow and Washington sounding each other out to see if there may be new fields of understanding after the limited nuclear test ban.

Both Kennedy and Gromyko were described as relaxed as they sat across from each other—a notable change in atmosphere from the last time Gromyko was a White House caller.

FIRST VISIT IN YEAR

Ironically, that was just short of one year ago—Oct. 18, 1962—and Kennedy, who already had seen the now famous aerial photographs, asked Gromyko if the Soviet Union was building missile sites on Cuba and Gromyko said no.

Cuba was among the world problems Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk discussed with Gromyko Thursday.

Kennedy is understood to have restated the U.S. position that the remaining Soviet troops must be withdrawn from the island. Though U.S. officials declined to say what Gromyko answered, they recalled when the same issue was brought up in Moscow last summer Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Rusk there are no Soviet combat troops in Cuba, only training units, and that they would stay.

Declines were reported at Pittsburgh from 827,400 to 745,600; Altoona 1,200 to 41,000; Johnstown 3,700 to 65,400; and Scranton 200 to 76,700.

NEW FIGHTING IN ALGERIA

ALGIERS (AP) — Fighting broke out Friday between Berber dissidents and Algerian army forces in the Kabylie Mountains. Four hours later there were reports of gunfire in villages all around the area.

There were no immediate reports of casualties.

The fighting centered on a winding mountain road just outside Fort National, a city of 7,000 only 30 miles from the Berber rebel capital of Qiyrouyon.

Medium tanks were dispatched by Algerian forces to deal with the Berber rebels. The Berber force was centered around a concrete blockhouse once used by the French, and commanding the road.

Ambulances rocketed along the road from the battle area. President Aumed Ben Bella has been sending troops into the Kabylie region for several days to stem the dissidents.

questions on which understanding is possible.

The Kennedy administration, informants, said, agrees with Gromyko, but much further exploration is needed to find specific issues on which such an understanding can be reached.

"Grindl"; Says She Is Really A Gypsy Imogene Coca Waited 2 Years To Play

"Both timid and adventuresome" describes Imogene Coca in real life as well as here hanging on a window ledge for the fun of it in her new television series "Grindl" (NBC-TV 8:30 p.m. Sundays).

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

"I'm a gypsy really, I've found out at last . . . or maybe just an escapist," Imogene Coca said describing the fun of travelling by bus to 120 cities with her actor-husband King Donovan. They toured a total of three plays and "sometimes the company was so large there'd be several buses. We'd decorate them at Christmas and have competitions to see who had the best bus."

She also said, bringing things up-to-date, "I am Grindle!" During the two and a half years Imogene was on the bus, "Grindle" her current Sunday night NBC comedy series (8:30 p.m.), was in the works. "It was that long ago that Bill Dozier called me about the idea. Then I didn't hear anything more until they asked me to rush out this spring for the pilot." After that it was zip, zip, zip and on with the series with Imogene as a jill of odd jobs — a maid one week, an office receptionist the next, an amateur detective now and then, and misunderstandings all the time.

ENJOYS HER ROLE

"Naturally I hope the public will learn to like 'Grindle,' too, because I enjoy her so much," said the big-eyed, gentle voiced comedienne who as herself can count on a rapturous reception anytime.

I was on hand a few years back when she got the Peabody Award for her rollicking comic gems with Sid Caesar on the old "Big Show." How had she felt?

"Terrible. In the first place I didn't think I deserved it . . . and in the second place I got the only taxi driver in New York who didn't know where the Hotel Roosevelt was and so, as you know, I was late." Not too late though to impress the assemblage of television executives as gracious, beautifully dressed and since she wasn't pulling her face around like molten rubber . . . very pretty, as well as what they already knew, most deserving.

LOSES THINGS

Taxis, however, are an old problem of hers. So is losing things. On a recent plane trip from Boston she lost all her credit cards, "all the time it's purses, scarfs, sunglasses," she moaned. Once when she was doing a stage show at the old Paramount and doubling at a night club, she lost a change of underwear and a dress in a taxi but was too timid to check lost and found "because what do you suppose they'd think?"

Though her first loyalty this season is to her series, Imogene may also do one of the variety comic turns that have made so many viewers yearn for "TV's good old days."

DAD LED ORCHESTRA

"Danny Kaye has asked me on his show and how I'd love to work with him again! I'll certainly do it if I can."

Imogene, Danny and Max Liebman the producer all polished their budding careers at the now-legendary summer resort Tamamint.

A show-business child (her father was an orchestra leader, her mother a magician's assistant) Imogene started out to be a dancer. While she was auditioning for "New Faces" one cold day in the mid-1930's somebody loaned her a man's raccoon coat and while she stood shivering at the edge of the stage waiting her turn, Leonard Sillman hired her as a comedienne.

By 1939 Max Liebman was producing "Straw Hat" on stage and Imogene was in it. Then in 1949 when he went into television with the forerunner of "The Big Show" he paged Imogene again to work with Sid Caesar.

CHANCE ON FLUKE

Though she now lives in California, she got her first taste of it by a fluke and because of Max and Sid. "Max thought we should work together closely all that first summer and he decreed California. No distractions he said. So I went out and rented a house. But the others never showed up. Max went to Europe and Sid stayed home in New York."

After the glorious six years with Sid concluded Imogene began alternating television with stage acting — much of it around the country thanks to that bus. "You know it's odd but I'd never really toured before. Then

BECOMES A ROVER

Former "Calendar" host, newsman Harry Reasoner, has been assigned the role of roving reporter by CBS to cover major news stories for CBS News, primarily for Walter Cronkite's Evening News and the new Mike Wallace Morning News which occupies the 10 a.m. time slot once filled by the departed "Calendar."

Iowa-born Reasoner will continue to base in New York where he, his wife and their five children have made their home in recent years though he will do considerable flying to keep up with news breaks and gather background on features of "the story behind the story."

RELIGIOUS SERIES

"Do You Remember Billie Dove?" "Garbo Talks!" and "A Cast of Thousands" are the provocative titles of three weekly installments of a comedy-drama "The Friends of My Youth" on NBC (October 13, 20 and 27) produced for "The Catholic Hour."

Though the treatment is described as "light and zany" both the underlying themes and the setting are serious. Grandpa is celebrating his birthday as word comes that a bomb has been dropped in the Arctic and world disaster impends.

CO-STAR IN COMEDY

Another Crosby, Kathryn (Mrs. Bing) will be appearing on a Bob Hope Show in November.

She'll portray Hope's wife in a comedy about a former Connecticut couple "conned" into buying a luxurious California estate next door to a notorious gangster.

Imogene

King and I did three shows "Thurber Carnival," "Once Upon a Mattress," and "Girls in 509" (which she'd also done on Broadway)."

WENT TO HOTEL

Her eyes grew even mellow as we went to bus-talk. "We had a compartment sectioned off at the back that was library, kitchen, living room, bedroom. Once when Everett Edward Horton was with us and we had a several day layoff he talked us into the idea of flying to the nearest big city, Denver, and 'being civilized and going to a hotel.' I hated to go. It hurt . . . like abandoning one's home."

But California seems to have compensations that have erased her bus-mania at last. When she had to take her recent quickie-trip last for interviews and appearances, the crew gave her a surprise going-away party. I know she was hoping for a welcome-home surprise, too. "I'd just gotten a little white kitten's confidence on the set and in an other couple of days I know I could have taken it into safe keeping. I hope to heaven some body's been feeding it and it's all right."

NEEDS A HOUSE

Animal - love Coca needs a house . . . not just for the kitten but for the cat she already has, and the dog, and the duck. "My stepdaughter got him for me when she was home for Easter vacation. Why? Well she knew I'd had one once before. Oh he's still all right. Max Liebman paid 35 cents for it. It was doing fine but I had to find another home for it. A restaurant outside New York that keeps prize geese took pity on us. It was the only plain duck in the pond. But now they tell me it's mated with a Mallard and the offspring look like Dalmatians."

She may think she's "Grindl" but she's really Imogene and there's no one else quite like her, humorous, talented, sensitive and kind.

IMPORTS ACTRESS

The world gets smaller as television show budgets get bigger. In order to have Kathy's aunt drop in for a visit on "The Danny Thomas Show" Irish actress Barbara Mullen had to make a quick trip from Dublin to Hollywood. Seems only decent, though in way.

The first time she appeared on the series the show came to her, in a manner of speaking . . . for during the show's European tour she was cast as "Aunt Molly" when Thomas and co-star Marjorie Lord filmed an episode in Dublin.

TEACHERS GUIDES

Last year more than a quarter of a million requests were received by NBC for teachers' guides to the Saturday midday educational series, "Exploring." Consequently this year the network has prepared a massive mailing to elementary and high school principals across the country. . . . covering not only the new season of "Exploring" but "News Encore" and "Children's Theater" as well.

The Guides "outline each broadcast and suggest classroom projects relating to material presented on the programs." They are written by professional educators.

GRAMMY'S COMING

Bob Hope will emcee "The Best on Record" an hour-long salute to past winners of "Grammys." The hour-long NBC telecast, set for Sunday evening, November 24, will be under the auspices of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences,

BOONE BACK

The show went on, but the understudy didn't. Richard Boone, who sustained a broken rib and other injuries in a recent automobile accident, surprised even doctors by recovering sufficiently to get back to work far earlier than predicted. Another member of Boone's NBC Repertory Company was set to take over Boone's role in "The Fling," since production could not be delayed . . . and it had been anticipated Boone would be away at least another three weeks.

NEWS BASES TO 10

At a cost of "something over $500,000" ABC has just completed expansion of its newfilm unit in 10 locations on three continents. The networks' United States newfilm bases of operation are New York, Washington and Los Angeles.

Paris, London, Berlin and Saigon are other cities where installations are now in working order. The network is supplementing its own 50-man crew with "more than 300 stringer cameramen, available for special coverage located in all parts of the world."

Making French toast? Beat three eggs with a third cup of milk and use this blend for dipping about eight slices of bread, which is the presenting body. No awards, however, will be made during the broadcast. It will be strictly entertainment and, according to a network announcement, it is planned to have more than 20 top stars perform their top numbers.

VIEWING RECORD

Television helped the 1963 World Series set a record for number of spectators. It is estimated that approximately 40,000,000 people everyday saw the Yanks and Dodgers battle it out in '63 . . . or nearly three times the number who have witnessed World Series games in person. Since 1903, 348 series games have been played before a total of 13,085,283 spectators.

"COMBAT" CITED

The television series "Combat" (ABC-TV) has been cited by the Secretary of the Army Cyrus Vance for making an outstanding contribution to public understanding of the United States Army.

The citation further stated that "this television series has maintained a commendable aura of authenticity."

A $50 BOOT

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Pete Ramos of the Cleveland Indians, following an unsuccessful effort as a relief pitcher, kicked his glove into the stands. Manager Birdie Tebbets fined the frustrated pitcher $50. Not only that, but Ramos gave the youngster who caught his glove another glove.

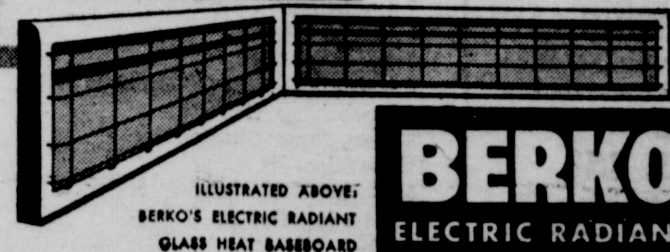

USING BEN'S BROOMS

NEW YORK (AP) — The Broom Research Council estimates that more than 50 million corn brooms are sold each year or about one a household. Benjamin Franklin is credited with being the father of the corn broom industry.
